Testimonial: Steven's story

Steven* is an ex-student at Unsted Park School and following his time here he says: "I have really enjoyed my time at Unsted Park School. I was always getting into trouble at my other schools because they didn't understand me. But when I came to Unsted Park School the teachers and teaching assistants all understood me and they helped me with my schoolwork and with other things, even when I wasn't exactly being a model student!

I have got a lot more confidence in myself now and have managed to pass some exams. I have made some great friends here as well, and I hope to be friends with them forever. I will miss being a student at Unsted Park but now it is time for me to move into adult life and hopefully get a good job."
