

Sketchley School

Sketchley School is a specialist day school for young people aged 7 to 19 years with an autistic spectrum disorder (ASD) and associated conditions, including behaviours that challenge, Asperger syndrome and pathological demand avoidance (PDA).

Set within an acre of mature grounds in the heart of Sketchley, the school provides young people with a safe, specially-adapted environment in which to learn and grow. The school is specifically designed for young people with autism and includes rooms for specialist subjects, therapy and quiet areas.

Building confidence and skills for a fulfilling future

Our aim at Sketchley School is to equip every young person with the skills and confidence that they need for a happy, independent and fulfilling future. Young people learn in an adapted environment where they feel safe, comfortable and understood, and we are so proud of the progress they make here.

“Leaders and staff know very well the additional needs of pupils’ special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND). They provide clear guidance that breaks targets down into achievable steps for each pupil. Staff adapt their teaching and activities they set pupils to enable pupils to learn well.”
